SEES DANGER ELEMENT IN WHEAT PACT

Sir Herbert Samuel Explains His Objections to Ottawa Agreements

MORE POPULATION IS CANADA'S NEED

CALGARY, Aug. 28 (CP).—Danger was seen in the recent London wheat agreement by Sir Herbert Samuel, British Liberal Parliamentary leader, who delivered an address here, this afternoon, under the auspices of the Canadian Club and the Calgary Board of Trade.

He defined the wheat agreement as an admirable object, but not plain as to how the object—increased wheat prices—would be obtained. The farmer, Sir Herbert said, when he found higher prices assured would naturally raise more grain. This was the danger, Sir Herbert said.

HOME SURPLUS
Diminished production, he emphasized, must go along with reduced exports, mentioned in the agreement, otherwise a great home surplus would be built up. This, he said, was what happened with the United States Farm Board and the Canadian wheat pools and this threat of a home surplus was the chief cause of depression of wheat prices in the past.

"They compelled Great Britain to the negative policy of discouraging foreign trade," Sir Herbert said in reference to the Ottawa agreements. His resignation from the British Cabinet, Sir Herbert added, was not because of indifference to inter-empire trade, which the Ottawa agreements promoted, but because the agreements interfered with foreign trade.

Sir Herbert pointed out British trade with foreign nations was three times that of her trade with the Empire.

THE BEST SERVICE
"The best service Britain can render Canada, or Canada Great Britain, is to increase home trade and provide each other with great markets at the same time."

A great future was seen for Canada by the noted Britisher. Canada, he believed, could double her population and still require little increase in her Government and transportation facilities.

ASK GOVT TO PAY FARE BACK
Delegates of War Veterans' Congress Lay Complaints Before Ministers

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 (CP).—"No country in the world has more war veterans than Canada," declared Sir George Perley in meeting a delegation from the All-Canada Congress of War Veterans in the Prime Minister's office today.

The All-Canada congress opened in Ottawa Saturday and application was made to the Government to receive a delegation today. This was granted and the complaints they made against treatment of certain veterans will be considered by the departments responsible, Sir George, as acting Prime Minister, told them.

PRACTICALLY STRANDED
The delegates impressed upon the members of the Government that they were practically stranded in Ottawa, and asked the Government to pay the railway fares of the men and women attending the congress, some sixty-four, back to the cities they came from. Five came from Vancouver and nearly all the other large cities of the West, Ontario and Quebec were represented.

The ministers explained that the Government could not pay out money for such purposes, but promised to give the question consideration at the next Cabinet meeting. It is understood that private contributions were made by the ministers to assist them.

The All-Canada congress action in sending delegates to Ottawa was viewed unfavorably by the two foremost veterans' organizations, Canadian Legion and Army and Navy Veterans' Association. The officials issued statements dissociating their organizations with the congress.

ORDER ESTABLISHED AND PRISONERS FREE
ST. PIERRE, Miquelon, Aug. 28 (CP).—Order has been established in St. Pierre, following the riots of a few days ago and today all prisoners arrested in connection with the disturbances were released.

The riots occurred when angry colonists stormed the station in protest against recent increases in taxation.

Death and Damage Caused by Storm

THESE pictures show part of the destruction wrought by the most violent storm in twenty-five years, which swept the Atlantic seaboard states, bringing death to at least forty persons, injuring countless others, and causing damage estimated at millions of dollars. Photos at the top and right show homes at storm struck with violence at Hempstead, L.I., hurling a large tree upon an automobile in front of the post-office building. The wreckage is seen in the photo, left, below.

Fire Damage to Oregon Forests Estimated at $15,000,000

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 28 (AP).—Mountainous billows of smoke hid lurking, treacherous flames today along a forty-mile front in northwestern Oregon as slumbering winds and moisture from the ocean permitted 4,000 fire fighters to renew their attack on the most devastating conflagration that ever swept over the forest lands of the state.

For fourteen days the flames had ridden high gales of winds to spread with explosive force over thousands of acres of the fine timber. Fire wardens have estimated loss at between $15,000,000 and $18,000,000.

If favorable weather continues, directing officers believe the menace will soon be brought under control.

Dread of Foul Play Causes Wealthy Man To Make Queer Will Leaves $100,000 for Bringing His Imaginary Murderers to Justice and Gives Directions for Private Investigation Into Cause of Death

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (CP).—Fear of a violent death led Horace Elliott Wadsworth, wealthy New Yorker and husband of a Stratford, Ont., woman, to bequeath $25,000 for an investigation of the cause of his death, and $100,000 in rewards to those who might help in bringing his slayers to justice. But preliminary investigation tonight had found acute alcoholism as the cause of death.

DAMAGED SHIP LIMPING HOME
Seattle-Alaska Liner Aleutian Strikes Shoal on Vancouver Island

SEATTLE, Aug. 28 (AP).—The Alaska Steamship Company said tonight the liner Aleutian, leaking, struck a shoal on the north end of Vancouver Island Sunday night, was "getting along fine" on her return to Seattle, being due here tomorrow.

With the liner Victoria as convoy, the Aleutian is to dock here for survey and repair of her engine room, double bottom and oil tanks. The Aleutian, with 150 passengers, sailed from here Saturday for Alaska. They are expected to be transferred here to the Victoria, which was proceeding here from Alaska when a call came from the Aleutian for assistance.

FARMERS' FINANCES IN BETTER SHAPE
WINNIPEG, Aug. 28 (CP).—Due to improved prices for their products, many farmers in Western Canada will be in better financial shape this year than for some time in the opinion of Louis L. Lang, of Galt, Ont., president of an Eastern finance corporation, just returned from a Western tour.

Back to the Land Becomes Reality
WINNIPEG, Aug. 28 (CP).—Unemployment in the city and the recent rise in grain prices has brought about a general rise in demand for farm lands surrounding Winnipeg. Unemployed in the last five years, real estate firms report.

MURRAY BAY, Que., Aug. 28 (CP).—Gingerly, the hotel manager, unwrapped a package, and from the fold of brown paper appeared: Two demi-tasse cups and saucers (Cardinal's pattern and the hotel's pride and joy), four demi-tasse spoons, one silver finger bowl, one butter knife and two tea towels. The package was accompanied by a letter saying the sender—formerly employed as a waitress—had joined the Oxford Group Movement and was returning articles stolen from the hotel.

COL. FOSTER NOMINATED

Is Unanimous Choice of Islands Conservatives as Union Candidate

(Special to The Colonist)
Colonel W. W. Foster, D.S.O., president of the British Columbia Conservative Association was the unanimous choice of a nominating convention of the Islands Conservative Association, held yesterday at Ganges, as candidate in the coming provincial election. His name was proposed by Captain M. F. Macintosh, M.C., former member for the riding, and seconded by F. Burdett.

Colonel Foster accepted the nomination given by forty-one delegates representing every part of the constituency, and paid tribute to Capt. Macintosh for his generous action in withdrawing.

UNION PRINCIPLES
Colonel Foster said he subscribed fully to the resolution passed by the Islands Association recently, and which held "that a candidate should be independent of party affiliations and subordinate to the principle of co-operation of the Union Government, and that the question of leadership is not a factor." He expressed keen appreciation of the unsolicited action of Captain Macintosh, who, in withdrawing, his own name, made the unanimous nomination possible and hoped that regardless of affiliations the meetings to be called in the riding shortly would be widely attended.

Capt. Macintosh described Col. Foster to the meeting as one of the most outstanding men in public life in British Columbia, a brilliant soldier in peace and war, a successful business man and former deputy minister of public works and one who had formerly represented The Islands riding in the Legislature with conspicuous success, besides being vice-president of the Dominion Command of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League.

Election of Col. Foster, Capt. Macintosh continued, would place for the Islands of the Government of the Islands a man capable of accomplishing much of lasting benefit to the Province. F. Burdett, in seconding the nomination, associated himself with what had already been said.

INDICATIVE OF GREAT ADVANCE

Minister Gratified by Large Decrease Shown in Number of Unemployed

OTTAWA, Aug. 28 (CP).—Hon. H. J. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, expressed satisfaction in connection with the decrease by 200,000 persons of the number of unemployed during the past four months, in a statement issued today.

"Such a large increase in employment at this time in contrast with the large decrease which occurred during the same period last year," Mr. Stevens said, "is indicative of a far greater advance in industry than a similar increase in normal times would reveal."

DRAWING ON RESERVES
"During the month of July," Mr. Stevens pointed out, "a number of firms reported to the Department of Trade and Commerce that they had to draw upon their reserve stocks to such an extent that the month's shipments were heavier than the month's output."

"A feature of the last two or three years has been that most business firms have kept their output at the lowest point possible consistent with supplying the needs of their customers. And so," said Mr. Stevens, "it is certain this gain in employment, giving the people so much greater purchasing power, will create confidence in the minds of producers and encourage them to build up their stocks to normal levels."

NON-AGGRESSION PACT
ROME, Aug. 28 (AP).—It was learned tonight that an Italian-Soviet non-aggression pact, which will be signed soon, includes a section outlawing economic aggression. Each country formally promises not to boycott products of the other country or to engage in dumping and other practices likely to harm the commerce of the other signatory.

Fire Makes Two Homes Total Loss
NANAIMO, Aug. 28.—Two homes at Brechin, two miles north of Nanaimo, were destroyed by fire at 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning. With an estimated loss of $4,000. They were the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bazley and Mr. and Mrs. George Millard.

Fire started at the residence of the Millards, which is owned by A. Stewart, Nanaimo. The home had been left vacant while Mrs. Millard was driving her husband to work. Only a radio and chair were saved from the Millard residence, but most of the furniture of the Bazley home was saved.

FOUR-HOUR EARTHQUAKE OF GREAT INTENSITY RECORDED AT GONZALES OBSERVATORY

Centre of Shock Estimated to Be 7,650 Miles From Victoria—Other Leading Stations on Pacific Coast Report Disturbance—Severe Damage Predicted if Tremor in Populated Area

RECORDED on instruments at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory here and confirmed by reports from other leading stations on the Pacific Coast, an earthquake of major magnitude occurred somewhere in the Pacific yesterday afternoon. So severe were the oscillations of the seismograph here that F. Napier Denison, director of the Gonzales bureau, expressed the opinion that if the disturbance occurred in a populated centre serious damage probably resulted, with possible loss of life. This opinion, too, was confirmed by scientists at other leading stations.

The first tremors were recorded on the seismograph at 2:30 p.m. yesterday, and the needle continued to oscillate for four hours.

"The earthquake was a very severe one and is approximately 7,650 miles distant," Mr. Denison stated. "The centre is probably in the South Pacific."

MAY HAVE CAUSED DAMAGE
He added that if it occurred in a populated area, a great toll unquestionably would be taken. However, there is a very strong possibility that it occurred beneath the ocean, where its only effect would be to change the contour of the ocean floor and probably divert ocean currents.

This is the second disturbance of major proportions to be recorded here within the past few days. On Friday, an extremely severe series of tremors was registered at Gonzales, and placed by Mr. Denison at some 6,300 miles distance, probably in the vicinity of the Philippine Islands or Formosa. Since no report of a catastrophe has come through the regular news channels, it is concluded that this earthquake must have originated beneath the ocean.

RECORDED AT DENVER
DENVER, Colo., Aug. 28 (AP).—An earthquake shock of great intensity was registered on the Regis College seismograph, here, at 4:16 p.m. (Mountain standard time).

Gang Battle Is Staged in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28 (AP).—Two men, one identified as Harry Mackley, who carried five police identification cards from counties adjacent to New York City, were shot and killed tonight by three gunmen, in what police described as a vicious outburst of gang warfare.

The shooting occurred in a popular Italian cafe on the edge of Hollywood, where Mackley and his unidentified companion were eating. Eye-witnesses said the three gunmen entered the cafe, strode to the table where Mackley and the other man sat, and opened fire. They backed from the restaurant and fled.

FIRES UNDER CONTROL
NANAIMO, Aug. 28.—A comparatively heavy rainfall this morning and a short shower in the afternoon checked bush and timber fires in this vicinity, which were becoming a menace. All local fires are now reported under control.

Winnipeg Alderman Shows His Comrades Courage in Combat

Resents Taxi President's Charge of Graft and Nobly Upholds City Fathers' Honor Inside and Out of Council Chamber

WINNIPEG, Aug. 29 (CP).—History was made in the Winnipeg city council chamber when Alderman John Blumberg, Labor representative, and Arthur T. Henderson, president of a local taxicab company, staged a furious bout of fistuffs.

It was the first time such a scene had been witnessed in the historic room.

The unscheduled bout, witnessed by council members and crowded galleries, occurred during the weekly council session last night.

WORDS—THEN DEEDS
The battle of fists followed a verbal duel over a statement made recently by Henderson, who charged for $500, any by-law could be passed through the council. The council was considering a taxicab by-law when the bout opened, and it was two minutes before the contestants had been pushed into a hall, outside the council room, and order was restored.

INVITED OUTSIDE
"Anyone who accuses me of grafting, can come outside," was the invitation the alderman issued earlier in the evening. Henderson said he was prepared to stand by his allegations. "I have no intention of running away from any alderman," he added.

City's Business

"Depression or no depression, people will buy what they want when that particular article is made available, and we have proved it," say wholesale dealers in the various makes of radios.

For many years, they told The Colonist, the manufacturers of electrical products have been endeavoring to produce an automobile radio which would give satisfactory results without success. This has finally been accomplished and during the past two months the demand for these machines has been so great in Victoria that, coupled with the tremendous demand throughout the country, the factories of all the electrical manufacturing corporations on the continent have been unable to keep pace with the sales.

In the city alone, over 300 of these machines of all makes combined have been sold during the past sixty days.

JOURNEYING FROM PARIS TO LONDON

Writer Gives Impressions of Chauffeurs, Trains and Open Spaces

SKIRTS DEATH IN DASH TO STATION

By PIERRE VON FAASSEN
LONDON.—When a Parisian chauffeur is told to proceed to one of the railway stations it seems that something of the indomitable spirit of the Marne begins to stir in his breast. The Marne battle was won, of course, by the taxicab drivers of Paris. The mention of the word "station" makes the chauffeur twice as reckless as usual and with that, utterly disdainful of death, his lips curl into a sneer expressing supreme contempt when he approaches a traffic signal. He shrugs his shoulders with a gesture of unutterable superiority at the whistle-blowing and gesticulating policeman on the boulevards. Accompanying these actions with a crackling flow of picturesque epithets, he seems fully determined to prove to his passenger the veracity of that old French adage which says that taking one's departure is a little like dying.

We skirted death a hundred times on the last furious dash through Paris, which was also the beginning of a journey that is to terminate somewhere in the vague and nebulous distances of Vladivostok and Chinese Turkestan.

A sweltering heat had turned the Parisian atmosphere into an approximation of cooking-tove temperature. Thousands of citizens were vainly seeking relief in liberal libations of aperitif and flushing syrup drinks in the endless rows of sidewalk cafes. Your average Frenchman is not prone to seek escape into the broad open spaces when a heat-wave strikes the town. He proceeds from the notion that the less you stir around the better you feel. Consequently there they were sitting, smoking and permuting what is to them an almost mechanical gesture, lifting glasses with gayly-colored contents to their lips.

OFF TO DUNKIRK
It was the evening rush hour when I drove to the North Station to take the train for Dunkirk on the Channel. The huge depot, with its fantastic medley of color and light and dirt and noise, with its mixed, acrid smells of coal-smoke, fuel-oil, wine fumes and roasting seemed endowed with a temperature most appropriate to the sweat-room in a Turkish bath. The heat was of the clammy kind, which makes humans gasp in the peculiar inane manner of goldfish in a bowl that has been placed in an over-heated room.

And then suddenly: a shrill blast, a flurry of waving white handkerchiefs, a vision of endearing eagerness on the station platform, shouts, last calls of farewell, alarming compartment doors and with a grinding and screeching of brakes and couplings the train was under way.

The train—a flying oven!
For a quarter of an hour followed the bewildering kaleidoscope of the Parisian suburb: grey roofs and chimneys, pots, backyards, grimy factories; huge black gas reservoirs; monotonous rows of tenement houses—of them steaming brick ovens, inhabited by thousands in cramped apartments without breathing space, tossing restlessly through the sultry white nights of Summer, shivering in Winter, breeding holes of tuberculosis, where men have almost forgotten to dream—and finally the first fresh breezes of the open space.

STILL IN FIELDS AT DUSK
It was 9 o'clock in the evening but the peasants were still in the fields, scraping up the hay, bending over, straining, setting up the sheaves of grain. They didn't even look up at the passage of the train. What time had they started work in the morning? At 5, at 6 the latest. "But how can they possibly stand it?" asked an English lady in my compartment. It is indeed somewhat of a puzzle until you take into account the we city-dwellers are ruining ourselves and the physical stamina of coming generations by the drab greyness of those prisons with mountainous walls in which we have chosen to entomb our lives. Our lungs can accommodate but small puffs of the soot—and money-laden air. Our eyes have grown unaccustomed to distance and have become blurred. Half of humanity is wearing glasses. We destroy our kidneys with our sedentary existence. We have distended stomachs, yes, and half of us suffer from temperamental distemper in the bargain.

The city—the enemy!
I did not see any of the ships that are supposed to pass in the night. I sat below decks, listening to a thunderous roar over the Channel, while Baron Konstantin von Neurath, foreign minister in Hitler's Cabinet, in plain and unadorned language, was kind enough to give me an expose of the present situation in the Reich and in the world. It was not an interview. It was a series of disastrous prophecies.

FOLKESTONE AT DAWN
Dawn broke with the familiar speech of English stevedores and porters floating over the wharf at Folkestone. One of the gentlemen, with whom I exchanged confidences while transferring baggage from boat to train, assured me that "we were living in historic days." An expressive term, which I deemed worth a glass of ale.

We pulled into Victoria Station with crowds of suburban commuters, freshly showered and pink, trousers creased, equipped with brief cases and umbrellas, their pipes filling the air with such aromatic delights.

Your Health and Your Weight

THE FATTENING DIET FOR THIN PEOPLE

By JAS. W. BARTON, M.D.

One of the mistakes often made is trying to fasten a child, or an adult, without inquiring as to the cause of the extreme thinness. If the parents, or the one which the patient resembles, was likewise thin, then it is only natural to suppose that thinness is a family characteristic, and only a small amount of gain can be expected. If there is no family history of underweight, then before increasing the food intake, a thorough examination should be made, as there are various conditions, unknown to the patient, which may prevent increase in weight, despite increase in food.

There may be infection of some kind from teeth or tonsils, a chronic inflammation of the appendix, a sluggish intestine, some blood condition, any one of which might be interfering with any gain in weight. One of the main causes for thinness is an overactive thyroid gland, or so-called "goiter." This over-activity results in the processes of the body working too rapidly and digestive disturbances with loss of weight, is usually one of the symptoms.

You can thus see, then, that where there is a rapid heart, trembling of the limbs and indigestion would be well to have the metabolism test made, which shows whether or not the body processes are working too rapidly due to over-activity of the thyroid gland. The thought then is that before increased feeding is undertaken to fatten the thin individual, all these things should be considered.

Practically all diet experts are agreed that sugar is one of the best foods in increasing weight. Not only should sugar be given during the form of candy should be given between meals also. Many physicians are using insulin to increase weight, as it develops a good appetite, especially for sugar.

Parents find that the use of a little sugar or candy immediately after school, gives the youngster energy with which to play, so that when he comes in for the evening meal he is not too tired to eat, and his processes are not too tired to properly digest the food, and have it absorbed into the blood.

What would be considered a good fattening diet? The first thought is to make sure that more food is given than the body needs for its work, and especially those foods which are rich in food value, but small in size. These foods are the fats, sugars and starches, namely: cream, salad dressings, butter, bacon, cereals, bread, sugar, cream soups and desserts, peas, beans, nuts and dried fruits. The only danger here might be that rich foods taken in large amounts at one time upset the digestion.

To provide the right foods for building up body tissues, meats, eggs, and milk should be given in liberal quantities. Fruits and vegetables must also be included in the diet to provide

Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, came here late today accompanied by George Harrison, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Reporter Given Tip On Keeping Cool in Heat of Shiny East

Meets McCormick on Gangplank—Head of Armored Car Corps Shows Him How to Be Comfortable and Contented in India

By Gordon Sinclair
KARACHI—Coolies sweating under shiny white bars of solid silver wind-swept wharf. Spike-legged police nursing brass-bound brooms like Boy Scouts stood over the treasure looking important! But wondering just what to do. British troops in hats too big for their heads walked around with bayonets gleaming from their rifles.
Britain's $10,000,000 war debt "token" was getting ready to move off for New York and out into the wharf gates infuriated Indians braved their protests.
The brown and black Rajputana with tugs pulling furiously at their stern noses into her berth while mail bags were rushed up the pier to a Persia-bound puddle-jumper. Outside in the Arabian Sea a gale howled.
Since floods had crippled train service into the wild and woolly north the little vessel waiting to take the mails was nailed down to a strict time schedule and snored now to get away.

SIX-FOOTER ARRIVES
Warriors and nursemaids, Arabs and black nobles from Nubia, sea-sick Chinamen, were already aboard. A man with four goats, three wives, two motor cars and so he burlap sacks full of something that smelled like a neglected zoo came on ahead of me. Then, shouldering his way through the sweating black horde stalked a pink-cheeked six-footer with a battered topee coked on the back of his head and a wide grin on his face.

"What's your name?" the guardian of the gangplank demanded. "McCormick," he said. "I want to hear me sing?" The guardian didn't.
Gaunt blacks with "Free Cooly" written all over their shirts hounded this pink man and got a few coins. Then he eased his big frame into a seat with a sigh and howled: "Boy, bring me a Burma cheroot, a Madras Mail and a large cold whisky and soda. Follow that up at five-minute intervals with soft romantic music. In exactly twenty minutes bring me another whisky and soda and a love story."
The startled steward led to his pantry to feel his pulse.
"Great to be home again, laddie. No place like India," the big fellow grinned.
"Where from?" I asked, not suspecting a story. "Montreal," he said. "But there's not much use going back there any more. My folks are all dead." So there I was bang into a home-town story again and here it is:

STORY FROM HOME:
A noisy St. James Street crowd milled and crowded around The Montreal Star bulletin board. It was August, 1914. War was declared. Among those who read of it was this pink-cheeked G. R. McCormick, senior in science at McGill. He saw what was up and hiked full speed for the armories. Already there was line-up to crowd into the Black Watch. McCormick joined the line.

but they were recruiting the 24th Battalion before he finally passed the doctor and climbed into a uniform. He was dashed quickly off to France and right into the thick of things.
One dark gloomy day in 1916 he got a mysterious and welcome message to go at once to England. He kicked the mud of France from his boots and was flown across the Channel. In a big ramshackle barn of a place a brass hat showed him a painted, mechanical monstrosity. "That," he said, "is a tank. It's going to help us win the war—and your's going to run it."
McCormick was one of the first men to run a tank in the war. He's been running tanks, armored cars and other mysterious war machines ever since.

HEADS TANK CORPS

Now, up on India's far-flung northwest frontier he's head man of the tank and armored car corps. Over the sand dunes and rocky crags of the Himalayan and Hindu Kush foothills cars rattle and bump in bandit pursuit or mock war. Winter and Summer. Sometimes they thread their way through the black gash called the Khyber Pass. When they do that Miles Miller of Napanee keeps the wires of communication humming. Miller is in charge of the signals. His Montreal neighbor runs the big rumbling war machines. Among other things they've got twenty-four Royal powered pursuit tanks up here and Baluchistan brigades drop all their ideas about loot and plunder when those babies start chugging through the passes.

Now, after his eleventh trip home since that fateful day in 1914 McCormick heads back into the badlands for another three-year spell. "And it's sure great to be back," he grinned.
"What's so good about India?" I asked in surprise. "No more," he said. "Never a girl to come humming around and butting in. Women are wild and parasites. They have only one idea in the world. That is to find some man who'll keep them. Father keeps them till they're twenty, then along comes some sucker and bangs. He does off the girl's end and is locked for life. No sir. Me for the Baluchistan badlands. There are no women."

A GALE AT SEA

By this time we'd nosed into the gale. It hit us like a comet. One mad mighty whoosh and after that for two days Captain McCormick and I didn't see much of each other and I didn't see much of the ship. First night out they tried to feed us. But we got soup, fish, meat balls and ketchup up our sleeves and in each other's laps. Dishes were smashed, potted palms came clattering down. Next day they just gave up. We had no chance to eat unless through a straw or out of somebody else's pocket. It was just wham bang, hit a wave and duck a wave, hit a wave and duck another. But we were only thirty minutes late with the mail.

At Karachi customs men came busting and bellowing aboard. I'd been in India two months and had less kit than anybody else on the puddle-jumper. But the boys pawed through my stuff as if it had been loaded with morphine or something. Then they turned me loose and I rolled through the sandiest city I ever hope to see—and I've seen Cairo. The air was yellow with sand, the city seemed spread out like a giant's alibi. Our train for the cold heart of Asia had pushed off. There was a twenty-four hour wait. McCormick who has mastered the art of taking life casually rolled down on a hotel like an Oriental potentate. "Boy," he bellowed. "Black men came running. I want a bathtub and two fans!" The boys looked blank and puzzled.

"Quickly, boy, quickly. Bring a bathtub here into the bedroom." Mysterious orders rattled out. A woman with about nine loops in her nose came up the stairs with a bathtub on her head. Two youths came in with fans.
"Now then boy, get 200 pounds of ice and put it into that tub; turn on the lights. The boys nodded in appalling disbelief but the ice came up. McCormick stripped off shirt, socks and shoes. He placed the fans and got them humming across the ice. Then he humped on the bed with the ice-chilled breast fanning across his ample hide.
"By gosh," he grunted. "It's certainly great to be back."

Jones (dismally)—Yes, I had a balance in the bank a little while ago, but since I've been engaged it has all gone.
Friend—Expensive game, eh? Never mind, love makes the world go round, you know.
Jones—Perhaps, but I never thought it would go round fast enough to make me lose my balance.

Sir William H. Hearst Says
West Shows No Signs of Bitter Struggle

"Conditions in the West, from what little I have seen of them, appear to be reasonably good," declared Sir William Howard Hearst, K.C.M.G., K.C., L.L.B., former Premier of Ontario, on his arrival in Victoria yesterday after a trip across Canada. "While the general feeling is better everywhere, I think that in British Columbia particularly, there is a more cheerful attitude."
"People seem to have money enough to travel," continued Sir William, "the trains and boats on which we were passengers all had their full quota of travelers. As far as the actual return of good times is concerned, I think it is largely a matter of co-operation between the people generally and also among the nations."

Sir William spent two days in Nelson while en route to the Coast attending a meeting of the International Joint Commission. He indicated that several important matters were under review at the session, but was unwilling to reveal their nature.

He declined to discuss politics in any shape or form, declaring that having retired from the political arena many years ago, he had no further interest in matters of a political nature.

Sir William Hearst, who is accompanied on his trip by Lady Hearst, was war-time Premier of Ontario from 1914 to 1919. He was knighted in 1917 and was appointed by the Imperial Government in 1920 a member of the International Joint Commission under the treaty between Great Britain and the United States for the purpose of settling international disputes between the United States and Canada.

GRETA GARBO comes to life

Her True Story Now
To Be Printed For The First Time

Greta Garbo's true life story and true love story are to be printed for the first time. This same statement made about any other character in Hollywood would not be believed. In Hollywood there are few secrets and little reserve. Again and again they turn their silly souls inside out for the sake of a headline.

But not to Garbo.
She has been "the cat that walked by herself." She has stood alone on the mountain top. Even her press agents scurrying for copy have never been able to fathom the real Garbo who has now been revealed for the first time.
True Story Magazine has had many hundreds of thousands of all-time human documents pass across its editorial desks. Life stories and love stories that reached to the very heart of its millions upon millions of everyday people for whom they were written. But this True Story of Garbo comes pretty close to the top.

For Garbo herself not only comes from the common people. She belongs to the common people. She has not changed.
The first chapters of the Great True Story of Greta Garbo will appear in the next issue of True Story Magazine which will be out on Friday, September 1st. Watch for it eagerly. It is well worth watching for.

SPOKE IN FAVOR OF C.C.F. PARTY

LADYSMITH, Aug. 28.—J. S. Woodsworth, leader of a meeting in the Rialto Theatre here yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the local unit of the C.C.F.

Despite the sultry weather, nearly 200 gathered indoors to hear the political leader of the new organization. He was introduced to the audience by Sam Guthrie, candidate in this constituency for the C.C.F. programme.
Mr. Woodsworth, in a comparatively mild and rather elementary discourse of an hour's duration, condemned the system of privately controlled wealth that led to the periodic depressions and misery, and said the C.C.F. proposed basic changes of a constitutional nature that would supplant capitalist ownership by socialized ownership and distribution of commodities and services.

GOVERNMENT IS BACKING CITIES

B.C. Relief Agreement
Signed and Is Now En
Route to Ottawa

Already signed at Ottawa by Hon. W. A. Gordon on behalf of the Dominion Government, the new relief agreement was ratified by the Province this week when Mr. Toine affixed his signature to the formal document. The agreement, now fully ratified, is on its way to Ottawa.

Hon. W. M. Dennis, Minister of Labor, disclosed yesterday the text of a wire which he has sent to Mr. Gordon, setting forth the terms of the agreement made by British Columbia municipalities, and endorsing these proposals fully.

SUGGESTIONS MADE

Under these representations, the Province joins the municipalities in asking Ottawa to recognize medical as a municipal relief work. To include as municipal relief work projects created by separate regional boards, such as sewer and water works, and permit of some alternative method other than camps for the relief of the physically unfit, and to agree to some variation in other phases of the system.

Meanwhile the Province, said Mr. Dennis, is going ahead with the cost-of-living survey it began last Tuesday, and expects shortly, through the Department of Labor, to be able to arrive at some formula of equalizing relief in centres out of line with the average costs generally encountered.

Mr. Dennis expressed his appreciation of the assistance rendered by municipal officials in consideration of the new relief agreement.

WILL USE BUREAU FOR EMPLOYMENT

Work at Port Hardy Will Not Commence Until Fall, Officials of Company State

In a statement issued yesterday by local directors of Port Hardy Industries, Limited, now in course of reorganization, it was intimated that no artisans skilled or unskilled will in the meantime be employed as the company will not be ready to proceed with construction of the initial units of the industrial developments at Port Hardy until late in the fall. Then all help will be engaged through the medium of the Government Employment Bureau. This statement was rendered necessary as a result of the number of applicants for employment received by the company.

The company, when reorganization is completed, will proceed to erect a wood carbonization plant, saw mill, cannery and other undertakings, including stores and housing accommodation.

Associated locally with the new project are the following: Dr. Arthur Edgewood, Cleve White, O. H. Dorman, Colonel Brook Stephenson, William Moore, P. J. Sinnott, William Hart, William Mable, Harry Savage and C. Jeanneret.

An old lady walked into a post-office with a carefully packed parcel. "Can this be sent by paper rates?" she asked.

The postmistress took the parcel and examined it.
"I'm sorry," she replied, "it cannot go by paper rates. You see, it must be open at both ends."

"Well," said the old lady, "this is a pair of trousers I'm sending my son. They are open at both ends, aren't they?"

"You have admitted Smith to your club? But he is such a bore."

"Yes—we wanted somebody to grumble about."

Three more days, including today, remain for entries in The Colonist snapshot competition and the final prize winners will be announced on September 10.

SAYS MINISTRY SHOULD RESIGN

Rev. Robert Connell Suggests Lieutenant-Governor Take Action

Mass meetings in Victoria and Vancouver to demand that the late Governor of the Province take some action to end the regime of the Toimie Government to make way for an immediate appeal to the people, was suggested by Rev. Robert Connell, C.C.F. candidate in the Capital City in an address here last night in the Sons of England Hall. Mr. Connell charged the present administration with continuing in office against the will of the majority of the people of the province. "No other province in the whole Dominion would tolerate a situation such as exists here. It is of no use any group going over to the Legislature to demand their resignation. They would simply tell us to mind our own business," Mr. Connell stated.

OPENS CAMPAIGN

Mr. Connell's address was the first of his campaign in the interests of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation Movement, and the meeting was attended by upwards of seventy-five persons. He is one of four candidates the C.C.F. is sponsoring in Victoria.

"The New Appeal" was the subject of Mr. Connell's talk and he dealt with a variety of subjects and problems linked with the movement with which he has identified himself. He reviewed the platform of the C.C.F. in so far as it referred to the principles of the movement without going into detail concerning the remedies to be applied to cure the ills of any individual province or any individual group of citizens.

Mr. Connell said it was by the will of the people that governments are ruled. "You have an instance of that in the case of the meal tax. It was a vexatious tax and one that the people did not like, but nevertheless they paid it until Mr. Elliott in Vancouver refused to pay and the Government quit collecting it. The same, I believe, could have been done with the one per cent tax. If the employers had the courage to say that they would not act as collecting agents for the Government, that tax would have been forgotten and I believe today there are many that are escaping the tax," Mr. Connell claimed.

Dealing with the two recognized parties in politics, Mr. Connell said: "Between those two parties, as far as a definite principle is concerned, the separation is not much thicker than a sheet of paper. It would seem to us that it is the practice of parties to make the public purse the means of enriching a few people in this country." Mr. Connell promised that if the C.C.F. was given power in the Legislature the public purse would not be something for everyone to get into. "The public purse of the Province must be administered the same as the finances of any private individual or corporation and it will be no use for representatives to come to the government demanding a new courthouse for a few hundred persons or a breakwater where there are no ships," he stated.

Mr. Connell was introduced by W. B. Caird, representing the Socialist Party of Canada in the C.C.F. movement and a candidate in the Victoria electoral district for the C.C.F.

What Today Means

"VIRGO"

If August 29 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:20 to 9:30 a.m., from 8 to 9:30 p.m. and from 11 to 11:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 1 to 2:30 p.m. and from 6 to 7 p.m. It is possible that you will feel in a depressed frame of mind on this date and that you will not feel equal to many of the demands of life. Do not give in to this despondent feeling. Business activity will be dull, with a probable sharp upturn in the late afternoon. Strenuous exercise will bring lasting benefits. An ideal day for short trips on the water.

The child born on this August 29 will quite possibly not resemble to any great extent either of his parents. This will prove true of his physical as well as his other characteristics. He will not get along well with the other little ones in the family. He will be the brunt of many a jest and will have to stand for a lot of teasing. A game little one, with great physical courage.

If August 29 is the date of your birth, it is possible that you are the sort of person who never fails to succeed in conducting his business affairs, but who invariably runs into snags and difficulties in the conduct of his personal and family affairs. In business, you have capacities that make it possible for you to manage and direct immense transactions involving thousands and thousands of dollars. You are invariably at the head of things, you can direct and lead others and they are happy to work for you and with you. In your home you are quite the reverse. You are inclined to be petty and to dictate; there is lacking in you that spirit and willingness to co-operate which is so essential. Your weak points crop out at home, and unfortunately, you make little effort to bring them under control.

Born on August 29, you are not a lazy person; you always find something of interest to do. You are inclined to work your employees and servants a little hard, but you expect no more from them than you are willing to do yourself. You are conservative in all things that are of a public nature; on some matters you probably have very radical ideas, but these you seldom express. Your friends will be made mostly through business contacts, and few of them will be intimate. The women will make many friends through their work in charitable organizations. To the latter they will devote much time.

NANAIMO, Aug. 28.—At the council meeting here today a by-law received third reading providing that the redemption of tax sale property at the tax sale for 1933 be extended to two years instead of one year as previously; also that property taken over by the City in 1932 and still unsold be redeemable by former owners up to two years from the date taken over by the City.

DRIVE FOR REDUCTION IN WHEAT ACREAGE STARTED BY U.S. GOV'T

Five unless the four chief exporting nations, Canada, United States, Argentina and Australia, join in a supplementary understanding dividing among them a quota of 560,000,000 bushels in exports during the year which began August 1. This supplement has been delayed, but Wallace said he was confident it would be signed tomorrow. It has been approved by Canada and Australia, but United States is withholding its signature until it has been signed by the Argentine delegate, Thomas Le Breton.

Substantial Achievement
Wallace said the four nations, including Argentina and United States, had verbally agreed to the supplement, which would limit America's exports for the year to about 47,000,000 bushels or 8 1/2 per cent of the whole.

The central wheat agreement reached at London was described by Wallace as "a substantial achievement." Wallace said "the lead, early last Spring, in initiating steps which led to summoning of the wheat conference" was taken by President Roosevelt.

He added Prime Minister R. B. Bennett supported United States in getting exporting countries to reach an understanding on principles.

FOR NEXT YEAR ONLY
The 15 per cent requirement will apply only to wheat plantings for harvest next fall. Decision as to the extent of reduction for the 1935 acreage will be made a year hence. Reduction in acreage is to be made from the average increase of farm-ers joining in the plan from the base period for the years 1930, 1931 and 1932, with some exceptions to provide a four or five-year base in instances where the three-year base is considered "unfair."

SCHOOL FEES ARE OPPOSED

Trustees W. P. Jeune and W. W. Duncan Against Saanich High School Charges

Emphatic objections to charging high school fees for resident students in Saanich, were voiced by Trustees Walter P. Jeune and W. W. Duncan, at a meeting of the Municipal School Board last night. A short but warm debate arose out of subject matter contained in new registration cards.

Trustee Jeune was of the opinion that charging fees was not giving residents of the municipality a "square deal." He advocated that Saanich should give three full years of high school training free of charge, after which pupils must pay the full cost of attending school. This school population would be controlled.

NO CHARGE NECESSARY "Fees should not be charged to anyone," he stated, quoting Section 140, Sub-section 1 of the Public Schools Act. This declares that it is in the power of school boards to fix what sum can be charged or, if necessary, no fees whatever need be charged.

Trustee Duncan said everyone should pay if any at all were to be charged. "I am not objecting to the fee if everyone pays it," he asserted. It costs as much to educate a pupil of fifteen years as it does for a student of sixteen or eighteen years, he maintained. He stated that province-wide adoption of everyone paying should be carried out.

ACT OUTLINED "It is more necessary today for students to be well equipped when they leave school than in days gone by," he pointed out. Trustee Jeune objected to the fees starting at sixteen years when students of fifteen were liable, under the act, to be charged.

Trustee A. E. Hull, second of the motion passed at a recent meeting that fees should be charged, said that he was under the impression at that time that only sixteen-year-old pupils and over could be charged.

Students entering Saanich High Schools, sixteen years and over, will be required to pay $10 per year, in two payments of $5. Initial payment must be made before school starts next week and the second portion must be paid before the first February school day. This was moved by Trustee Tomes and seconded by Trustee Hull at a recent meeting that fees should be charged.

Trustee Jeune and Trustee Duncan opposed the motion, but Chairman Hobbs cast his vote in favor of the fees.

Non-resident students will still be required to pay $120 per year. Several applications from parents unable to pay were received last night and were held over for consideration.

Mrs. Dorothy Platt, of Rochester, N.Y. It is recalled at the time the codicil was written in Tampa, Al Capone, now incarcerated Chicago gang boss, was then starting in that part of Florida. Acquaintances here of Wadsworth suggested the lawyer's presence may have inspired fear in the sportsman but they could cite no reason for such a fear.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 28 (AP).—It was learned today a private investigation is under way into circumstances of the death here August 9 of Horace Elliott Wadsworth, wealthy New Yorker.

Coroner August Frolich said an attorney for Wadsworth's small daughter by a first marriage had arrived in Reno and was interviewing witnesses, including physicians, attorneys and other persons with whom Wadsworth had become acquainted while staying at a local "dude ranch."

Meanwhile, local authorities announced they were satisfied no suspicion should be attached to Wadsworth's death. An autopsy performed August 11, showed he had died of acute alcoholism.

DEATHS DUE TO DRIVER SLEEPING

Two Lethbridge Policemen Killed in Car Accident—Two Others in Hospital

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 28 (CP).—An automobile accident which caused the deaths near Macleod, Alberta, early yesterday, of Constable Joseph Farrell and Serg. J. Blockidge both of the Lethbridge police force, resulted when Farrell fell asleep at the wheel, in the opinion of the coroner's jury empaneled here today.

Testimony of two men injured in the crash, Arthur Shankland, of Lethbridge, and George Montgomery, Medicine Hat, was taken as they lay in their beds at Macleod General Hospital. They could shed little light on the accident as they were dozing in the back seat of the car when they left the grade. They stated the party was enjoying a holiday following a bridge party at Lethbridge.

Minister Away—Hon. Josuah Hinchliffe left his office last evening for a four-day furlough, taking the balance of his annual vacation. As he wants to rest for a few days in the first real holiday he has taken in several years, the Minister of Lands and Education withheld word of his destination.

Office Opened—The B.C. Agricultural Association opened its office in the Bayward Building yesterday for the receipt of entries for the Willows Fair, to be held September 11 to 16. All entries must be in by September 2. No forms will be accepted after that date. Yesterday hundreds of entries poured into the office, situated at No. 215 on the second floor. These entries will be segregated by the Exhibition staff after the closing date.

May Be Long Delay—The proceedings under a charge of bigamy laid against Walter A. Bright were yesterday adjourned until this morning at the request of Thomas Miller, who appeared as counsel for the accused. It was explained that it was possible that a commission might be requested for the taking of evidence in the case in New Zealand to prove the alleged first marriage and that the alleged wife was still alive.

Organizers Here—N. S. Loughheed, former Minister of Works and Lands, and W. C. Winkel, Mainland and Island organizers of the Unionist movement, conferred yesterday with Premier Tolmie and other members of the Cabinet. Mr. Loughheed stated he was assisting with the selection of returning officers and election clerks to be appointed by the Government for the coming year. No official statement was made as to the date of the election, though prospect of an announcement shortly was held out in some quarters.

Body Found—Badly decomposed, the partially clothed body of a young woman between twenty and thirty years of age, five feet seven inches in height and of about 130 lbs. in weight, was recovered from the waters of the Fraser River on Saturday, two miles from Lillooet, according to reports reaching headquarters of the Provincial Police yesterday. Inquiries were set afoot in an effort to identify the remains. The last recorded drowning in the area was that of Mrs. Hendry, Jr., formerly of Vancouver, believed to have drowned at Quince Lake on July 13 last.

Premier Will Attend—Premier Tolmie, who returned to the city on Sunday from a tour of Cariboo and Chilcotin range areas, will leave this evening for Vancouver, where he will attend the opening of the Vancouver Exhibition on Wednesday in company with Hon. Robert Weir. The Premier is expected back in Victoria on Thursday, and will leave again on Friday to take part in the centenary celebration of the white man's advent to Puget Sound, at Rainier Park, on Saturday. J. B. Munro, deputy Minister of Agriculture, is expected back in the city today.

Encounter Difficulty—A great deal of difficulty is encountered by the Postoffice Department, according to Postmaster G. H. Gardiner, through the manner in which local business firms mail letters to points outside the letter carrier delivery with two cents postage only, when it should be three cents. All concerned are advised that the postage rate of two cents applies only to Victoria, to all of Oak Bay, and to all of Esquimalt, and to those portions of Saanich in which the houses are numbered. Correspondence for Lake Hill, Seven Oaks, Cadboro Bay, Mount Tolmie, Colquitz, the rural routes, and the outside districts generally, should be paid for at the three-cent rate.

ENGLISH COMEDY
NOW AT CAPITOL

"Love on Wheels" is considered to be Jack Hulbert's funniest picture.

"Love on Wheels," a bright comedy with music, now showing at the Capitol Theatre, is a piece of elaborate enjoyable nonsense which provides capital light entertainment for all classes. The staging is excellent, the music is tuneful, the by-play is novel and laughable. The team work is good, too, but it is Jack Hulbert, indefatigable in his efforts to amuse, who makes the picture and holds it together.

Victor Saville has managed to build up an excellent atmosphere of reality.

Pull tribute for the picture's success must be paid to Jack Hulbert for it is his energy, versatility and resourcefulness which is the mainstay of the film.

EMPIRE Edwin H. Knopf was sent from Universal City, California, to assist Lulu Trencher in the details of his historical authenticity of "The Rebel," the stirring drama of the Napoleonic era which is now at the Empire Theatre. Both Knopf and Trencher are responsible for the story and direction of the film. Vilma Banky and Victor Varconi have supporting roles opposite Trencher.

PLAYHOUSE Nothing is impossible in the movies. "The Wet Parade" is a story of the impossible—a prehistoric ape, a skyscraper giant, captured by a puny man and then running amok in the heart of New York City—but this Merian C. Cooper-Ernest B. Schoedsack production for RKO-Radio has accomplished it. "King Kong" features Fay Wray, Robert Armstrong and Bruce Cabot at the Playhouse Theatre today and tomorrow.

COLUMBIA There's plenty of entertainment for the entire family in "The Wet Parade," which opened last night at the Columbia Theatre, for here is a picture which not only reveals intimate, tender romance, but unfolds a plot which carries a punch in every episode. The riotous Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante is

Farewell and Garden Party Joint Affair

The garden party which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Bullen on Saturday afternoon, in aid of the Colwood and Langford clearance fund proved to be a great success. Among the guests were the Bishop of Calgary, Rev. H. S. Payne, of Victoria, and several visitors from Colwood.

The opportunity was taken to bid farewell to the Bishop of Calgary, who has been conducting the church services at Colwood and Langford during the holidays, and to welcome Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle, who has been appointed vicar of the combined parishes.

During the afternoon the guests were entertained by some of the dancing pupils of Miss Clough, of Victoria. Those taking part were Hilda Jacques, gypsy and scarf dancer; Ethel Gillis, ballroom dancer; Rosalind, ballroom and Spanish dancer; and Thelma Stratford, waltz baller.

Tea was served by Mrs. R. J. Smith, assisted by the Misses I. Hince, P. Bennett, I. Smith, K. Goodall, E. Peatt, M. Brown and S. Hince.

Vancouver Pair Wed in Hospital

VANCOUVER, Aug. 28 (CP).—Cupid's impetuosity was illustrated on Saturday when two young Vancouver people, undismayed by a surgical operation and restrictions which it imposes, were married in the hospital unit of Medical-Dental Building.

Miss Callista Mae Phipps and Mr. Martin Damschir had planned to be married in St. Andrew's Wesleyan Church at 11:15 a.m. on Saturday, August 26. A week ago the prospective groom became ill with appendicitis and a day later was operated on.

His determination to be married was not dissuaded, he persisted, however, and on Saturday, in the presence of a number of friends and relatives, the ceremony was performed by Dr. Willard Brewster, D.D., at his bedside.

Ucluelo, Long Beach
Mr. A. Watson and party, of Port Alberni, were recent visitors in Ucluelo, en route from Kennedy Lake to Port Alberni.

Mrs. V. Evans and family, after spending the past two weeks at Long Beach, have returned to Tofino.

Miss L. Garrard, after spending several weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Garrard in Tofino, was a passenger on the St. Princess North, en route to her home in California.

Mr. A. Carmichael, after spending several days in Ucluelo and district, has left for his home in Victoria.

Mrs. A. Macroft has left for Herbert Arm, where she will spend a short vacation with her father, Captain C. C. Binns.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Stone and children, of Vancouver, are visiting in Ucluelo and other points on the West Coast for a few weeks before returning to their home.

Mrs. Bradley and Mr. K. Bradley have returned to Duncan after spending a short vacation in Ucluelo.

Mr. M. Clark, of Washington, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. G. Miller, for a few weeks.

Mr. Jack Carruthers, of California, was a week-end visitor at Long Beach, making the trip from Spruce Lake, Kennedy Lake and Clayquot Sound and returning to Port Alberni via Ucluelo.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Donogh, of Port Alberni, will spend some time at Long Beach.

Women of the Moose

A most successful basket picnic was enjoyed by a large number of members and their families of the Women of the Moose, Victoria Chapter, No. 25, at Cordova Bay on Sunday. The transportation was made easier and greatly appreciated through the kindness of Mr. B. Drysdale, a truck driver. Through the courtesy of Mrs. Ethel Humber, who has a Summer home at the beach, both dinner and supper were enjoyed in comfort, the tables, accommodating everyone, were attractively set on the wide veranda, overlooking the water and set off with vases of gayly colored flowers. The day was spent in swimming, rowing and other sports, a brilliant display of surf-riding being given by several persons. Mr. Leonard Humber, driving the motor boat, and Mrs. Carrie Drysdale and Mrs. Jean Lumley assisted in keeping everyone merry. The evening hours were spent in old-time songs by the merry group gathered around the huge bonfire.

Garden Party

Carne Rebekah Lodge, No. 45, will hold a garden party at the home of Mrs. J. E. Hammond, 1505 Elfric Street, tomorrow afternoon. Tea will be served, and there will be candy and home-cooking stalls. If the weather is unfavorable, the affair will be held in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Douglas Street.

Pupils to Honor Miss Heming by Giving Recital

Pupils and former pupils of Miss Marian Heming, one of the best-known teachers of piano in the city, will take part in a recital to be given on Friday evening, September 22, at the Shrine Auditorium, in her honor. Among those who will assist in the pianoforte part of the programme will be Mrs. Dorothy Martin, Cougler, Mrs. Cecil Laurs, Miss Isabel Pike, Miss Margaret Pringle, Edwin Bucklin, and others. For many years Miss Heming was in the habit of giving an annual pupils' recital that attracted wide notice, giving the proceeds to charity, but owing to a serious accident recently, she will be unable to do so this year, and her pupils are arranging this concert in its stead as a mark of appreciation of her unusual qualities as teacher.

Mrs. W. A. Jamieson, who is taking charge of the details of the recital, will contribute some vocal solos in the programme.

ENGAGEMENTS

ROBINSON-SMITH
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, of Ocean Falls, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Nancy, to Mr. Noel W. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Robinson, of Victoria. The wedding will take place on September 16, at the United Church of Canada, Ocean Falls.

Nelson, Margaret Collins, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Crabbe, Mrs. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Harris, Mr. and Mrs. W. Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Mowat, Mr. and Mrs. J. Pascoe, Mr. and Mrs. B. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cox, Mr. and Mrs. De la Mothe, Mr. and Mrs. Van Proum, Mr. and Mrs. D. Leason, Messrs. D. Cavity, O. Painsier, John Foubister, F. John Hopper Selected to Open Season

John Hopper, pianist, who proved such a popular success when he played here two or three years ago for the Arion Club, will open the Victoria Musical Arts Society's 1933-34 evening programme season on Wednesday, October 4.

This was one of the most important decisions made at the meeting of the Musical Arts Society executive, held yesterday, for the purpose of planning the forthcoming season's activities. Miss Violet Wilson and Mrs. Harold Campbell, conveners, respectively, of the evening and afternoon programmes, submitted proposed programmes which, with modifications, were adopted, and when formally arranged, will be published.

BUDGET COMMITTEE

The executive also received the report of the budget committee, which, in the absence of the conveners, Mrs. C. E. McNeill, was read by the president, Mrs. W. A. Jamieson. This committee was appointed last year for the purpose of giving the other committees in respect of financial matters.

The meeting received, with regret, notice of resignation of Mrs. C. E. McNeill, adviser to the junior branch and a member of the evening programme committee; and of Mrs. F. A. Tadmam, a member of the stage decoration and membership committee.

VOICE APPRECIATION

On the suggestion of the honorary president, Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Miss Violet Wilson moved, and Mrs. Walter McKim seconded, a vote of thanks to Mrs. Jamieson for bringing to Victoria the noted pianist, Vigeo Kihl, whose master-class, held during July, was such an outstanding success.

Victoria Girl to Be Married Soon

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Miss Constance M. Ross, twenty-six, social service worker, and native of Victoria, and Dr. Amel Glass, thirty-two, of 1185 Park Avenue, New York, contracted a marriage licence here today. They were married in September, but revealed no other wedding plans.

Miss Ross gave 186 Lexington Avenue, New York, as her present address and said she was the daughter of John and Margaret Russell Ross. Dr. Glass is a native of Russia.

Weddings

BLAKEY-CRITCHARD
The wedding of Edith Maude, eldest daughter of Mr. Percy Critchard, 1041 Empress Avenue, and of the late Mrs. Critchard, and Mr. Kenneth B. Blakey, of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Blakey, 1479 Fort Street, was quietly celebrated in St. John's Church, yesterday afternoon, 3 o'clock, Rev. N. E. Smith officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked most attractive in her ankle-length gown of white silk crepe, cut on princess lines. It had four-tier elbow sleeves, the waist being encircled with a sash tied in a large bow at the back. She wore a white hat of the same material, white shoes and gloves, and carried an arm bouquet of roses and carnations.

Miss Vera Critchard was her sister's only bridesmaid, wearing a pretty frock of pearl grey wool crepe with sleeves and a neck bow of a deeper shade of grey, a grey hat and black suede shoes. She also carried an arm bouquet of roses and carnations.

RECEPTION HELD

A reception was held later at the home of the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mabon, 1051 Pendergast Street, where the charming decorations were carried out in pink and white. The guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Mabon, the latter wearing a frock of Nile green silk crepe with a deep V-neck and a large white bell to receive the good wishes of their friends, after which refreshments were served from a table centred with the three-tier cake and arranged with vases of pink and white flowers.

After a honeymoon spent motoring to places of interest on the Sound, Mr. and Mrs. Blakey will make their home in Vancouver. The bride left in a smart frock of periwinkle blue and a white coat and hat. Misses Alice and Simone Blakey, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Edwin Harris, of Duncan, were guests at the wedding.

Among the gifts received was a silver rose bowl from the Mines.

Farewell Party Held Up-Island

LADYSMITH, Aug. 28.—Several groups, representing the United Church congregation and Sunday school and the Welfare Association, assembled Friday evening to present their respects and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. L. C. J. Toyne and family on the occasion of their leaving Ladysmith to take up missionary work on Lesquelt Island.

Mr. Toyne, during his residence here, has been an active worker in the organizations represented, and following a programme of music and community singing, he was presented with appreciative tokens for the sterling work performed in the city. The gathering was presided over by Rev. C. McDiarmid, and the Ladies' Aid provided refreshments. Miss Annie Mason led

Bob Morrison Wins Medal Honors After Nine Hole Play-Off

Noses Out Ken Lawson by Lone Stroke and Jimmy Todd by Four in City Golf Championship—Trio Tied in Qualifying Round

Shooting the same brand of golf which carried him into a tie for top place in the qualifying round over thirty-six holes with Jimmy Todd and Ken Lawson, Bob Morrison, long-driving ace, captured the medal honors in the city golf championship at the Uplands Golf Club Sunday after a nine-hole play-off by a lone stroke from Lawson and four better than Todd. It was a thrilling finish to the day's golf, Morrison shooting the nine holes in the play-off in 37, while Ken Lawson was right behind him with a 38. Jimmy Todd found trouble here and there and took a 41. This trio finished with thirty-six hole totals of 143, while Alan Taylor and W. H. Newcombe tied for second place with scores of 145.

The qualifying round was featured by some brilliant golf, which is a good indication that play for the crown adorning the brow of Walter Hall, Colwood, will be the sharpest in years. Hall gained a place in the championship flight with scores of 79 and 74 for a 153. Morrison's golf was consistent and close to par all the way. He bagged a neat 73 in the morning and then turned in a par-equaling round of 70 after lunch, while Jimmy Todd cut loose with a sensational 68 in the forenoon, but slipped to a 75 in the afternoon.

TAYLOR GOES GOOD
Ken Lawson, recent winner of the junior city honors, breezed in with a 75 in the morning but shattered par in the afternoon by two strokes with a fine 68. Alan Taylor found the going tough in the morning and took a 76, but settled down in his second round and came home with a 69. Taylor made a great effort to overtake the three leaders on the last nine of his final round when he trimmed the par by two strokes, coming in with a great 31. Tied with the Oak Bay contender was Bill Newcombe, who played steady throughout, bagging 73 and 72, while in next position came Howard Reid, George Wallace, with 147. Reid shot a 79 in the morning but cut eleven strokes off that after lunch with a 68. Norman Wallace, Macaulay, was next with 150, while the rest of the field was well bunched.

PATNER WINS HONORS
A four-cornered deadlock resulted in the "B" class qualifying round. Vic Palmer, Bob Carey, G. Townsend and Fred Pearce all came in with scores of 82. The former won the play-off over eighteen holes. F. H. M. Foot was second with a score of 83 and Harold Robinson was third with 85. The former won the play-off places in the title fight.

Scores of 169 or better were good enough to qualify in the main event. Five players will play off Wednesday evening at 5:30 o'clock. The match play will start Saturday afternoon at 1:30. The play-off will continue until Monday when the finalists will clash for the title.

AUTHORITY OF A.A.U. IS QUESTIONED

Court Expresses Doubt That Amateur Body Has Right to Suspend Player

TORONTO, Aug. 28 (CP).—Mr. Justice J. M. McEvoy expressed doubt at Osgoode Hall today that the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada has power "to arbitrarily declare a man a non-amateur by their own sweet will with no one having the right to question it."

In granting Gerard McNulty, a baseball player, a further interim injunction restraining the A.A.U. from keeping him out of amateur competition.

The twenty-one-year-old Hamilton athlete took his case to the courts following his suspension by the Ontario branch of the A.A.U. Mr. Justice McEvoy had placed before him a motion for a permanent injunction restraining the amateur body from "proceeding further" with McNulty's suspension.

On August 21 an interim injunction was granted and this was extended today until Wednesday. Referring to the first injunction, Mr. Justice McEvoy said:

WANTED ANSWER

"I granted that interim injunction only a week in order that the union officials might answer promptly to the allegations made. 'I want to know why these people are so anxious to have this man tied up as a non-amateur. Why shouldn't this question be settled as to their power to so declare him so, before it is done? Why should this man be declared non-amateur before there is more known about it? Why should this union go on serving notices about this until this is determined?'

"The main thing is," replied Mr. Findlay, counsel for the Amateur Union, "this organization has the say as to what men shall play as amateurs and who shall not. If they have not, their decisions are not of much use, they might as well stop now."

"I am only questioning the right of this body to declare a man a non-amateur with no one having the right to question it," said Mr. Justice McEvoy. Mr. Findlay said McNulty still had a right to appeal to the union.

NO TRIAL HELD

LONDON, Aug. 28 (CP).—J. H. Crocker, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, said today that as far as he knew, Gerard McNulty Hamilton baseball player, whose suspension by the Ontario branch of the A.A.U. resulted in the athlete taking his case to court, had "no trial of any kind."

VINES AND K. GLEDHILL DETHRONED

Shields and Parker Defeat Defending Doubles Champions in U.S. Tennis

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 28 (AP).—Deadly smashing of six-foot-three Frank X. Shields, of New York, reinforced by the brilliant but not always steady play of seventeen-year-old Frankie Williams of Milwaukee, forced Vines and Keith Gledhill to retire in the first round of the U.S. National tennis tournament today at Longwood. The defending titlists, after overcoming a two-set lead to square the match, finally bowed by scores of 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 4-6, 6-2.

Under almost twilight conditions, the other semi-finalists went into action, George Loti, of Chicago, and Lester Stiefen, of Los Angeles, against Adrian K. Quist and Don Turnbull, of Australia. These international rivals managed to play thirteen games before demanding a postponement. Loti and Stiefen, by breaking Quist in the seventh game, managed to pull out the first set at 6-4. The Aussies led two games to one on service in the second set, when they agreed that the visibility was much too poor for first-class tennis.

STORM HALTS MEET

In an effort to give the fair-sized gallery a run for its money, officials then called for the national mixed doubles semi-final play, with Elizabeth Ryan, Californian resident of England, and Vines on one side of the court, and Dorothy Round and Fred Perry, crack Brit-liners, on the other. They managed to complete eleven games before a storm broke suddenly.

The Americans' slashing play gave them the opening set at 6-2, but the British team led two games to one on service when rain fell, in the second. Both of these postponed matches will be resumed tomorrow.

BLANK SLINGERS IN THIRD FIXTURE, 3-0 TO RETAIN LAURELS

Earn Right to Meet North Shore Here by Turning Back Winerymen in Third Strait Tussle—Lloyd Cann Pitches Well for Winners—Darkness Halts Game

BLANKING SLINGERS, 3 to 0 in five innings of ball played under a threatening sky and semi-darkness, Sons of Canada captured their second straight pennant in the Senior Amateur Baseball League, last night, at the Royal Athletic Park, before a fair crowd. Due to their victory, the Canadians earned the right to meet North Shore in a two-out-of-three series. The first game will be played here, Friday evening, and the second at the local enclosure, Saturday.

In winning the flag, the Sons came from behind to finish in a tie for top place with Cameron's, and then won a bye in the play-offs by defeating the lumbermen in a sudden-death fixture. In the series just finished, the Canadians outplayed Slingers in the field and had the best of it as far as pitching was concerned. In two of the games the winerymen outbatted the Sons, but failed to come through in the pinches.

Using his fast ball with telling effect, Lloyd Cann pitched the Sons to a well-deserved win. Cann had one of his best evenings and completely baffled Slingers' heavy batting order with his speed. Cann whiffed eleven in the five frames and issued two walks. Leo Holden worked for Slingers, but found trouble with his control and walked five men, while he struck out three.

SCORE IN FIRST

Going after the offerings of Holden, Sons started on their way to victory in the initial inning by sending home two runners. Kim Campbell started off with a walk. Haines sacrificed him to second with a neat bunt down the first base line. Bacon

BRITISH CHAMP WINS MEDAL IN U.S. WOMEN'S GOLF

Enid Wilson Sets Mark in Capturing Qualifying Honors

English Girl Turns in Lowest Score in Thirty-Seven Years of Play in Taking Medal—Leads Virginia Van Wie and Maureen Orcutt by Two Strokes

By PAUL MICKELSON

(Associated Press Staff Writer)
ENID WILSON, HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Aug. 28 (AP)—Ripping par to shreds over the final three holes with a spectacular finish that overtook a trio of America's greatest shot-makers, Enid Wilson, queen of England's fairways, captured the United States women's golf championship medal at Kananis today with the lowest total in thirty-seven years of play.

Trailing the leaders and par by one shot at the sixteenth tee, the husky twenty-three-year-old British champion blazed forth with two birdies and a finishing eagle for a record-breaking 75 and the medal. She had a margin of two shots over her closest American rival, Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, defending titleholder; Maureen Orcutt, of Hawthorn, N.J., and Helen Hicks, of New York.

Only four times in the history of the championship, which hasn't been won by a foreign entrant since Gladys Ravenscroft, of England, turned the trick twenty years ago, has 77 been scored in the big show of American women's golf. Alexa Stirling Fraser, now of Ottawa, did it in 1925 at St. Louis; Ada Macdonald, of Toronto, who qualified today with a fine 85 to give the title drive a double international threat, duplicated it at Cherry Valley, N.Y., in 1927, and Miss Van Wie and Miss Orcutt tied it last year at Salem.

MIGHTY TEE SHOTS

Mighty tee shots and long irons, dead to the green, carried Miss Wilson to her record-breaking total.

Miss MacKenzie, many times winner of the Canadian women's crown, played steadily over the difficult layout to card 44-41 and qualify with two strokes to spare. Her game appeared sound. Tomorrow she will meet Miss Peggy Waites, of Buffalo, who had 82 today. Enid Wilson is drawn against Mrs. R. C. Lake, New York, who qualified with 87.

MAC SMITH WINS TITLE

Captures Western Open by Six Strokes—Tommy Armour Second

OLYMPIC FIELDS, Ill., Aug. 28.—They waited around for Mac Donald Smith, old hand and crack golfer, to crack up again yesterday, but along he came at even par to win his third Western United States open championship by the wide margin of six shots over his closest pursuer, Tommy Armour, Chicago.

Soaring into the lead at the outset with a record-tying 68 over the treacherous number four layout at Olympia Fields, Mac never gave the field a chance to catch him, posting a 72-hole total of 282 for the three days of shelling. Armour made a great bid to overtake him, finishing with a 68 and 72 on his final rounds yesterday for a total of 288. Abe Espinosa, tiny Castilian from Chicago, finished third with 289.

Mac, now forty-three and a club maker at Nashville, Tenn., had rounds of 68-71-71-72, exact par for the distance, which gave him the trophy for the first time since 1925 and top prize money of $500.

MACDONALD'S TAKE ISLAND BALL HONORS

Local Softball Nine Take Shawnigan Lake in Second Fixture, 9-3

Blazing a glorious trail all season, Macdonald's service station captured their fourth major championship of the current softball season Sunday, at Shawnigan Lake, when they annexed the Vancouver Island crown by defeating the home squad in the second straight game of the scheduled two-out-of-three series by a 9 to 3 score. The win marked the finish of Shawnigan's reign as champions, a title they won last year by ousting Jokers after a thrilling series. Macdonald's next task is the British Columbia final against the Mainland winners. Dates for the series has not yet been set.

Playing without the services of the two champions, Art and Chuck, Macdonald's deserved their victory, and proved to be superior in both games. They won the first game here by a 21 to 7 score. Albert Montel replaced Chuck Chapman at first and turned in a fine game, while Noel Morgan performed at second. Chuck Turner went the distance for Macdonald's and turned in a fine performance, blanking the lake lads in seven straight frames, from the second to the eighth. Elmer Evans again twirled for Shawnigan, and went good, but his support was wobbly throughout.

Macdonald's got a run in the first, but the Shawnigan nine took the lead in their half with two markers. After blanking the Victorians in the second, Shawnigan supported Evans poorly in the next inning, and three runs crossed the plate. Macdonald's made victory certain in the fifth when they hit the ball hard to score four more. In the sixth inning, Wilf Shoultice, left fielder, pulled off a brilliant catch by running fast to take Archie Campbell's long drive, when it appeared like a homer to the fans. Shawnigan made their last bid in the final inning, but the best they could do was to score a lone run.

Larry Kennedy, Macdonald's manager and catcher, led the hitters with four safeties out of five trips, including a double. His brother, Les, crashed out a pair of timely two-baggers.

MACDONALD'S TAKE ISLAND BALL HONORS

Local Softball Nine Take Shawnigan Lake in Second Fixture, 9-3

Blazing a glorious trail all season, Macdonald's service station captured their fourth major championship of the current softball season Sunday, at Shawnigan Lake, when they annexed the Vancouver Island crown by defeating the home squad in the second straight game of the scheduled two-out-of-three series by a 9 to 3 score. The win marked the finish of Shawnigan's reign as champions, a title they won last year by ousting Jokers after a thrilling series. Macdonald's next task is the British Columbia final against the Mainland winners. Dates for the series has not yet been set.

Playing without the services of the two champions, Art and Chuck, Macdonald's deserved their victory, and proved to be superior in both games. They won the first game here by a 21 to 7 score. Albert Montel replaced Chuck Chapman at first and turned in a fine game, while Noel Morgan performed at second. Chuck Turner went the distance for Macdonald's and turned in a fine performance, blanking the lake lads in seven straight frames, from the second to the eighth. Elmer Evans again twirled for Shawnigan, and went good, but his support was wobbly throughout.

Macdonald's got a run in the first, but the Shawnigan nine took the lead in their half with two markers. After blanking the Victorians in the second, Shawnigan supported Evans poorly in the next inning, and three runs crossed the plate. Macdonald's made victory certain in the fifth when they hit the ball hard to score four more. In the sixth inning, Wilf Shoultice, left fielder, pulled off a brilliant catch by running fast to take Archie Campbell's long drive, when it appeared like a homer to the fans. Shawnigan made their last bid in the final inning, but the best they could do was to score a lone run.

Larry Kennedy, Macdonald's manager and catcher, led the hitters with four safeties out of five trips, including a double. His brother, Les, crashed out a pair of timely two-baggers.

Security Prices Little Changed At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP).—Stocks changed narrowly today, as the dollar made a broad recovery and wheat skidded at Chicago.

Not long ago, so sharp a slump in foreign exchanges—indicating a revision of Europe's view toward inflation in this country—would no doubt have had a reflection in United States share markets, but traders today gave it little, if any, attention. Prices were about steady virtually all day.

Sterling tumbled more than 12 cents during trading hours on the Stock Exchange, and French franc also weakened.

Stocks seemed to be marking time with pre-Labor Day hesitancy. Motor shares looked fairly strong at intervals, especially General Motors, which was the day's most active issue, at a net advance of a point.

The Texas vote on prohibition appeal failed to stir alcohol issues, most of which turned moderately reactionary. Rails looked steady at further July earnings statements appeared, also, initial traffic reports for last week created a favorable impression.

Weakness of some foreign obligations, probably as a result of sharp reactions in exchange rates, was an unsettling factor in the bond market today, and prices generally were highly irregular. Sales, while somewhat larger than last Friday, totaled only $9,825,000, par value.

French 7 1-2's lost 4 points, and British 5 1-2's were turned over in sizeable volume for a decline of 4 1-4 points.

Domestic industrial loans, as a whole, made the best showing. Rails lost fractions to a point or more. United States Government securities were quiet, but moderately higher.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

FOOD AND MENTAL AND PHYSICAL WORK

During the Great War nations found it necessary to conserve their food resources, and experiments were conducted to learn just how much food an individual needed to do his mental and physical work properly.

The Nutrition Laboratory of the Carnegie Institution conducted experiments which gave very interesting information. Balanced or "all round" diets were used. One squad of ten subjects received 3,000 calories (heat units) of food daily, the other only 1,800 calories, through a period of two months.

Mental addition showed the full ration squad to gain through practice double their accuracy in the first month, while the reduced ration squad had increased their accuracy only half at the end of two months. The reduced ration squad also made fifty per cent more errors than the full ration squad at the end of the second month.

Using the tuning fork, and also sensitiveness to electric currents, showed the reduced ration squad had gone backward.

In commenting on these brain tests, Dr. Donald C. Laird, Colgate University, believes that it is the better general physical condition of the full ration squad that gives them the superiority rather than any real damage to the brain of the reduced ration squad.

What about the physical or body tests? In a "steadiness" test made by tracing with a pencil between two parallel lines, the squad on reduced rations, not only made more mistakes, but showed less improvement in two months practice than the full ration squad did in the first month. Strength of grip was decreased eight per cent by the reduced diet, the left hand being more affected than the right.

Speed of eye movement was reduced five per cent in the reduced diet group.

Finger movement was also reduced in the reduced diet group. What do these experiments teach us?

They teach us that the body can adjust itself so that life is not endangered by the reduced diet, but it can readily be seen that mental and physical ability are certainly lessened.

Who would have thought that we should find a history for the term "bimbo"? Probably the reader who asked for it regarded himself as an optimist.

"Bimbo" has always been slang, but we have a record of it as early as 1837, when The Boston Transcript described it as "a rascally compound of brandy and sugar flavored with lemon peel," and The Baltimore Commercial Transcript called it "an invention of the devil to create drunkards."

"Bimbo" is Italian for "baby," and the connection between this and strong drink is not very plain unless we assume that one who loved his drink might call it his baby! The theory has been advanced that the connection is really with Barbados rum, "bim" being a nickname for a Barbadian!

Today, as closely as this column can determine, "bimbo" is college slang specifically for a "girl with a telephone number!"

CHAPTER XXVII

David's face looked drawn. "Norah, I'm moving along," he began. Norah, looking up at him intently, could make no answer. Her eyes were troubled and anxious.

"How'd you ever happen to marry him, Norah? He isn't a bit like what I thought he was; he isn't your kind. And he's old," said the twenty-five-year-old David wretchedly. "He must be near forty or fifty."

"He's ten years older than I am. He's thirty-five."

"Well," David conceded indifferently. Suddenly he burst out. "Norah, you can't go through with it."

Her color rose. Norah narrowed her eyes and looked away. "What can I do?" she asked in a whisper. "Norah, you never loved him?"

"I hardly knew him—how could I?"

"Shall you just—stay on here, with him?" the boy presently demanded, despairingly.

"I suppose so."

"Norah, how can you! It's terrible!" David muttered.

"I'm so sorry, I'm terribly sorry!" Norah could only repeat stupidly. Her head felt confused. "I don't know what he—wants," she confessed childishly. "You can see, he's all broken up; he's tired inside. I mean, his heart and his mind!"

"He couldn't possibly expect you

Lieutenant-Governor Visits Ottawa

COL. the Hon. Dr. Herbert A. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, is shown here on his first official visit to Ottawa since his appointment. He opened the forty-sixth annual Canada Exhibition. anyone else; that's over for me. But if ever I could do something for you—"

"You're awfully kind," Norah said thickly. She felt tears sting her eyes. "I was so happy this morning."

"I don't think he especially wants you to stay here," David said. The girl's sensitive face flushed.

"That's his manner, that teasing, provoking sort of way he has—he doesn't mean anything by it," she explained. "He stood by me when I was down and out, and I can't—I can't just walk out on him!"

"Come down to my mother now, anyway," David urged. "Until things get straightened out. She'll love to have you. Just—get out of it all!"

"Oh, David, don't you see I can't. Don't you see everything is in enough of a mess now, without my doing anything more?" the girl demanded tragically. "I don't feel the way I did sixteen months ago; maybe he doesn't either."

They stood still for a moment, unhappy and silent. They had strayed through the side garden gate, and were standing near David's roadster; David would not stay for lunch; he was going away, and he told her gruffly, awkwardly, that it was forever.

"I've been so damn happy!" he muttered, not looking at her.

"I know."

"Driving up here to see you, telling Mother and Dad yesterday. They were so awfully to it!"

"I know."

He looked at her pathetically; their troubled eyes met.

"Gee, what a break!" he said. "We couldn't see this coming."

"Will you go on here now, Norah?" "I don't know."

He turned back from his car.

"If ever you need me—if ever—you know, something might happen," David said, with youthful eloquence. "If it does, will you let me know, Norah?" He looked down at his steering wheel, moved the throttle to and fro with his thumb; his face was moody. "I'll never like

"I forgot to give that back to David," she said, in a mild tone, as if speaking to herself. And quite naturally she continued to Barry. "It must seem—unreal, being back here, after all you've been through!"

Whenever she addressed him it was to be seen that his face changed; it was as if, against his will, his shell of shrewd and laughing irony was for a second pierced. "It was an experience!" he admitted, briefly.

"You must be tired," Norah suggested. For answer he rumbled his hair, impatiently, laughed. "It isn't that."

Havana Facing Crucial Stage

Cuban City Confronted With Difficult Problems, Says Fred Spencer

Havana, Cuba, is a city of human contrasts where one is either fabulously rich or extremely poor; a city stripped of its ability to do business with the outside world because of restrictions placed upon its exports, a population wearied by depression and stifled through lack of finances and now harassed by the aftermath of revolt.

These were some of the impressions gained by Fred Spencer who recently returned from a trip to the Island and other South American points and related to Victoria Gyros yesterday.

LIFE OF PEOPLE

Mr. Spencer gave a colorful sketch of the everyday life of the citizens of Havana, noted for its sugar mills and tobacco factories. Havana had, Mr. Spencer pointed out, a multiplicity of controls, the railways by American finance, and the finances of the country by the deposed Machado, and the people controlled by police and military forces.

Mr. Spencer was in Havana about ten days before the political eruption and at that time sensed a feeling of general unrest everywhere. The revolt is now a matter of history, and the incidents that led up to bloodshed were simple enough in themselves, although the results were devastating.

"Everything appeared to be going on as usual in the affairs of state until Premier Machado interfered with the intelligent class and then the trouble started," said Mr. Spencer. "No doubt Machado carried on the best he could until he found it was impossible to pay back the salaries of the teachers. The student class became hostile and then the common police joined dissenters and Machado was out."

BEGGARS ABOUND

Havana, Mr. Spencer stated, abounds with beggars and it is practically impossible for anyone to get along the streets without being pestered for alms. Mr. Spencer was able, however, to secure some 4,000 feet of film and see much of Havana by donning old clothes. His visit to the "old jail" almost in the centre of the city provided an example of the destitution. Hundreds of persons tenanted the old cells and dungeons and others waited outside to get what was thrown out to them. He saw thousands sleeping on the sidewalks and police constantly patrolled the beer gardens and public places to keep beggars out. That was one side of the picture presented by Mr. Spencer.

In Havana the wealthy are as rich as the poor are poor and everywhere there are ample signs of the spending character. For instance, Mr. Spencer remarked, the Government Buildings are monuments of extravagance. He said the main Capitol building was floored with mosaic and tile, some of it imported from Rome and in places it was studded with solid gold and diamonds—"a fine pathway for the feet of serfs." The cemeteries, he related, are marvelous, with monuments costing as much as $25,000. The lower class graves are marked with plain wooden boards.

MARK OF DEPRESSION

On the whole Havana is in a sorry state. Depression has left its mark everywhere. The principal hotel, with a capacity for 2,000 guests, has not one floor fully occupied. Wages are low and prices are high. Clear makers average about seventy-five cents a day and employees in the sugar mills about twenty-five cents and an average of five cents a day. Other medicinal preparations are priced beyond all reason as are many other necessities of life.

The population in Havana has recently developed an international difficulty through the deportation of "British negroes" to Jamaica and the feeling among the native and the British is somewhat strained as a result. Mr. Spencer stated that it had been the practice to deport the Jamaicans immediately they became unemployed and shiploads had been sent back and their jobs later filled by the natives.

Little Bedtime Stories

The Gratefulness of Buster Bear

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Now when Buster Bear snatched away his paw so suddenly that Whitefoot the Wood Mouse did not have time to let go of the quill which he had been trying to pull out of Buster's paw, he actually saw Whitefoot several feet. You know Whitefoot is a very little fellow. Of course that quill went with Whitefoot. It was drawn right out of Buster's paw. Buster squeaked and then he roared and finally finished with deep growls. You see that sore paw on his paw was very, very tender, and the pulling out of that quill had hurt him like everything.

Of course Buster didn't know what had happened. He had been asleep. You remember, so had known nothing of what Whitefoot had been trying to do. He thought he must have accidentally hit the end of that quill against something in his sleep and that was what had hurt him so and awakened him. He turned his paw over—"It began to hurt it. You know this is the way all the people in fur try to cure their hurts. Always before Buster's tongue had found the end of that little spear. Now as he began licking he missed it. He stopped licking and looked sharply at the sore place. Of course that little spear was not to be seen. Buster blinked and looked again. He couldn't believe that that little spear was gone.

But it was gone. There wasn't the least doubt about that. That little spear was out of his paw and Buster knew that. So that new would soon get well. But if ever there was a puzzled bear it was Buster. He was so puzzled that he

"What?" cried Buster Bear, too astonished to believe he had heard rightly.

"I said I did it," squeaked Whitefoot more faintly than before. "I was sorry for you and so I pulled it out."

Buster Bear looked at tiny, shivering Whitefoot and over his face, a natured grin crept over his face. It tickled him to think that one so timid and tiny should have dared try to help him. "All right, Dr. Whitefoot," said he, and somehow his voice didn't sound quite so grumbly, rumbling as usual. "It is hard to believe it, but if you say you did it, I'll have to believe you. It's the best job you ever did. Hereafter you need worry no more from fear of me. When you need a friend just you call for Buster Bear. No one shall ever say that Buster Bear is not grateful!"
